

homeschool

at the carter

Wednesday, November 12, 2025
Creative Collecting

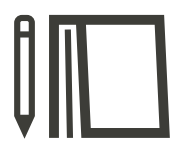

I will stay with my adults.

I will not eat or drink in the galleries.

I will look at art but not touch the art.

I can do some or all activities in any order.

The Gallery Teachers want to hear my ideas about what I see in the art.

I can take a break, have quiet time, or read in the Library.

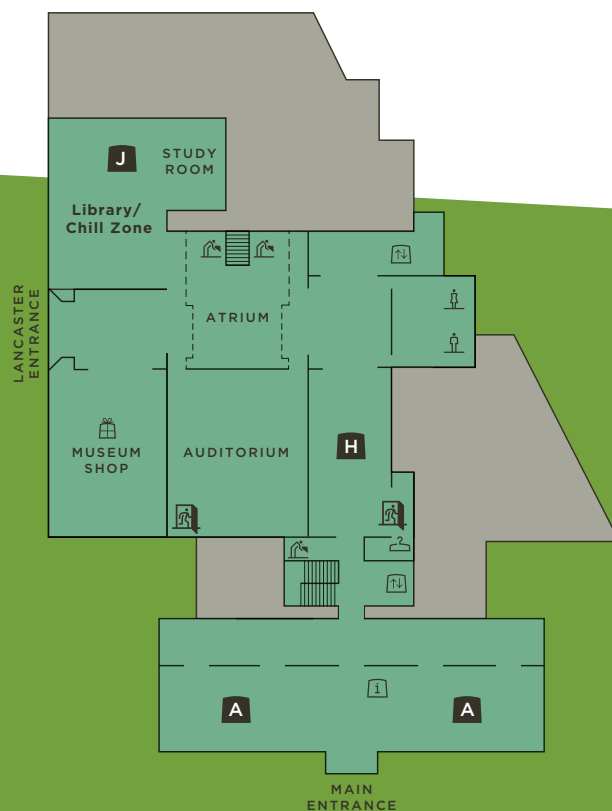

There will be Gallery Associates in black shirts to help me.

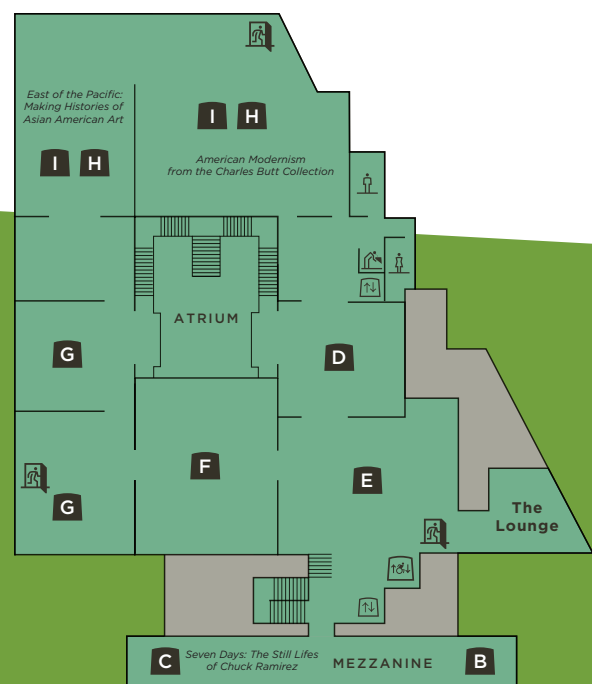

I can run, jump, and play outside on the front lawn.

FIRST FLOOR

SECOND FLOOR

homeschool

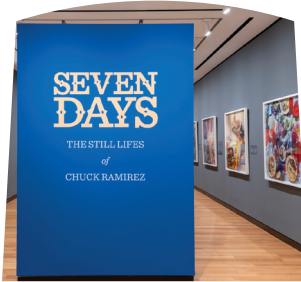

at the carter

Wednesday, November 12, 2025
Creative Collecting

Homeschool Spot

Explore a photographic series of still lifes before discussing the cultural importance of food and designing your own menu.

Seven Days: The Still Lives of Chuck Ramirez, Mezzanine

Homeschool Spot

Learn how Amon G. Carter Sr.'s passion for western art led to our present-day American art museum.

G, Second Floor

Homeschool Spot

Take inspiration from the movement of the ocean in the maritime works on view in American Modernism.

American Modernism from the Charles Butt Collection, Second Floor

Homeschool Spot

Experiment with shapes and colors while examining the abstract works on view in American Modernism.

American Modernism from the Charles Butt Collection, Second Floor

Homeschool Spot

Survey works by Asian American artists before learning more about the art of paper folding.

East of the Pacific: Making Histories of Asian American Art, Second Floor

Let's Make Art

Get inspired and create your own puzzle inspired by Blanche Lazzell with Carter Community Artist LaShonda Cooks.

The Lounge, Second Floor

Get Creative

Join the Welman Project for a creative reuse station and learn how you can turn simple materials into extraordinary creations.

Atrium, First Floor

