NITTA YUMA
HARRODS CREEK
KENTUCKY

Dear Helen:—

Shades of the past, a letter from Nitta Yuma but I want you to know what a fine job I think you did with your photographs in "As Long as The Grass Shall Grow" I was so interested when I read the reviews, both Priscilla's and one in a N.Y. paper that I got the book immediately then sent it on to Florence at Bennington. She also had seen the reviews and was delighted to get it and says she and her friends have all enjoyed it. They do a lot of good photography at Bennington and are very much interested in it.

Last week was The Ballard Fair with a mule race ("steeplechase") the feature event. It really was a circus. Your friend Billy Bishop won the Plymouth car everyone had worked hard to such chances as Him who Lasts —

Next time you are off on one of your jaunts stop in to see us. The old Ballard crowd are all grown up. Fanny Murphy has a darling little girl and her husband does odd jobs for me some time when he is not on W.P.A. The girls in Dennis class are debutantes This year but most of them are in college and Bobby's crowd finish college This year. It hardly seems possible does it?

Again congratulations on The book and let us hear from you sometime

Affectionately

Mamie Brown.
