

Samuel Darling,

all your precious letters came. Oh I think of you so much and have never felt so sad at parting with you. I just could have cried all that night and Alfred couldn't cheer me up. Sweetest girl you were far too good to me and I never could deserve you. But if you'll always keep loving me as you do I'll be happy to be all told to you so much. And certainly love you too. And we don't missel you so I want you back soon. Thank you darling for the cards. we all appreciate them especially me because I'm winning. You are a bad girl to leave that dollar and you are going to get it in stamp to write me. "Oh art so sweet. I'll be a art, yes a yes a yes a art."

It is getting a well in earnest - It has a sore wet muzzle from biting. It is a land.

alfred leaves us wondering. I'd be so sorry.
I won't have anyone to read & talk to -

That makes me iller than usual.
 To me it is worse of for anyway
 The boy is looking for his clothes. and all my ever darling girl
