

Xmas Day -

1720 P Street
Washington, D.C.

Darling Lamm - I am sick to death and really not able to write. But yours must be the first letter - I write - because I feel so deeply in the wonderful thing you did for my Xmas. In the first place, your telegram reached me at nine - thirty this morning.
Greeting me with its love and beautiful message - no one else has ever done that for me! Now I have deeply touched my in.

your thoughtfulness is perfectly adorable — And then — this afternoon — came your generous box!
Oh! I am, dear I have overwhelmed by it — all! I did not have either — record, and I will get a whole of pleasure out of them.
It will be a wonderful link between us. And the picture is very wonderful. I am looking at it — now. The stone with its Sorolla-like splashes of sun, is vivid and alluring. It will evoke cherished memories of San Diego, and rekindle the love and associations — between us —

You will have a wonderful day.
Thank you and bless you for it, dear -

This is his letter - I promise - it will come later -

My love to mother.

My dear Mr. Simon, he has sent you a message. I am sure he will write you, later.

With my deep affection,

Anna Simon.

I am coming out to Lee. Springs, this summer!
