My dear Miss Gilpin;

I am very glad to know that I may have a print of "The Prelude" for my book, and shall be greatly pleased to have a copy of it for myself, as you suggest. It will form a very gratifying addition to the collection of prints that various workers have been good enough to let me have, one time and another, and I shall certainly appreciate it.

I expect to leave town for the summer about June 1, and am going to take the prints for my book to the publishers before then, as I do not wish to trust them to either the mail or the Express Company--it is too valuable a collection. So I think I will borrow Miss Putnam's print, if you think she will lend it, especially since this will, as you suggest, give me an opportunity of meeting her and seeing the studio.

I am going to spend next week--or at all events most of it--in East Canaan, getting our house ready for the family to move into, and will call on Miss Putnam when I return.

I do not know when my book will appear, but you may rest assured that I shall take pleasure in sending you a copy when it comes out.

With best wishes, I am

Yours most sincerely,

Paul L. Anderson.
