My dear Miss Gilpin:

I want to thank you for the beautiful Christmas card. I can think of nothing nicer for a Christmas greeting than a beautiful picture. I had planned something similar, but my plans were knocked "galley-west".

At the last meeting of the Camera Pictorialists, you were elected to our Associate Membership list, which made me very happy, for I feel that your work has been deserving of that recognition. You will receive official notification thereof from the Secretary in due time. Please accept my congratulations, if such be in order.

I have not forgotten your generous offer to exchange prints, and some fine day you'll hear from me.

Our Salon this year was better than ever. The standard set by the contributors themselves, especially since our number of available entries were limited by space, made the standard much higher than ever before. The foreign work - nearly four hundred prints - submitted would have made a wonderful show in itself. We believe our show to be second to none.

I wish you could be here next year and study the work at first hand. It surely is an education, and the thrills one gets are simply indescribable. I know I felt elated that I broke in at all, and I assure you, that any one whose work was accepted can feel that their work was "all there".

Sincerely yours,

John C. Stick
