

123 Waverly Place.

New York, Feb. 27th 1925.

My dear Laura.

Brenda has been around to show me your snow scenes. How they did refresh me. They are just like your dearself in simplicity and truth. Truly photography is a wonderful medium to those who can understand. They were also just as stimulating to B.P. She misses you so greatly. I've been so so busy since I am able to work a little again. Mrs. Turner and I have had a number of sittings but it is desperately hard to get results in my studio. Too small, too much furniture and poor lighting. Then too people expect from me every plate to be a miracle. But I love it and am happy just the same. I have sold quite a few Lincolns. Dont worry if the ones

I sent you dont move. You can send them back to me any time you feel like it C.W.D. I dont write often but you are a comfort to me just the same.
I love both you and B.P. dearly and wish you happiness and success.
May we meet again.

Affectionately

Gertrude Käsebier.
