My dear Laura:

There seems to be a good deal of a muddle. Mr.Drew told me that the idea had just popped into his head the night before - long after you were in Colorado - but he may have meant the idea of a P.P.A. Memorial Fund.

According to our understanding Mr.Drew has never had an idea of publishing a Memorial Book of Mr.White's pictures but to have ten and with those seventy-five of P.P.A. members and call it a Memorial Annual to be sold perhaps for $3.00.

Mr.Horne seems to think - or did a week ago - that the Annual should have perhaps four or five of Mr.White's pictures and we go ahead as planned.

I quite agree that if the P.P.A. could raise the money more easily and really planned a Memorial Book, it would be all right for them to do it but they seem to have no such idea.

Mr.Horne and Mr.Hervey have done a little work on the letter. I enclose copy. Of course the price and process must be definite.

If in any way I can help in the hard work addressing envelopes or typing, I shall be glad to do it.

I am still pretty well housed and with a wet dressing on my leg but the party didn't hurt me one bit. Au contraire, it gave me something pleasant to think about. I hope to get down to the next P.P.A. meeting.

Mrs.White has had an evening meeting with Mr.Beck as speaker but it was the night of a terrible storm and I didn't dare go out.

I want to say that I think Mr.Drew will be perfectly fair and reasonable and that everything will work out right. He is bringing the P.P.A. up "awhooping".

Very sincerely yours,
