My dear Miss Gilpin:

This morning I have your letter calling attention to the fact that a photograph of yours was used in this magazine to illustrate an article entitled "Preparing Your Daughter for Adolescence." We regret very much that this photograph taken by you appeared with credit given to a photographer whose name is Van Damm.

What seemed^s to have happened is this. The Girl Scouts sent to us through their publicity channels, various photographs which they had had taken. We selected two. One was yours and the other was a photograph by someone named Van Damm. Through some mistake the names were confused and your photograph appeared credited to the other photographer. We regret this more than we can say.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs. Harold A. Littledale
