OFFICE OF THE LIBRARIAN

January 24 1930

Dear Laura:

The developed print of the Webster has arrived together with the proof of the negative, proving indeed the labor required to remedy the white specks. The final result is certainly impressive, and will be an important addition to our collections.

For which, as you will recall, it was an official order; so please send promptly the bill for it, made out to the Library of Congress, and do not fail to have the bill cover the great amount of labor involved.

Very sincerely yours,

John Gilpin
