My dear Miss Pitney:-

I am glad that the cards have reached you safely and that you like them. Will you check again on the envelopes? When I received them from the printer, I counted them twice and I made it sixty three of each, and I had a package of fourteen more of each ready to send you, which I dispatch herewith. I will find out from the printer if there are any additional envelopes. If there is a mistake, I fear that I sent Dr. Aberle more than she needed, for I feel certain that the full amount was delivered to me.

Hoping that you have a Merry Christmas I am

Sincerely yours,
