Dear Miss Gilpin:

Dr. Rastall has just returned from the East where he had a good talk with the editors of the National Geographic magazine. He tells me that Mr. Kerbey has written a beautiful article about Colorado and that the make-up is very well advanced. I think, if we forward your pictures, that it should be done rather quickly.

I have just received a letter from the editor of Nature Magazine, Mr. Richard Westwood, who wants a good picture of the Royal Gorge. This magazine will be an all-Colorado number and the articles have been written by men like Dr. Hafen of the State Museum, Dr. Parker of Colorado College, James Grafton Rogers, Bob Rockwell and Katherine Bruderlin of the Colorado Mountain Club, and others.

Owing to the necessity for haste, the Colorado number being now practically made up, I have taken the liberty of forwarding your Royal Gorge picture to Mr. Westwood, with the request that he be sure and give you credit. I do not know whether he makes exceptions from his regular price for photographs, but I took special pains to tell him the character of your work and your standing. I hope this will be satisfactory.

I know you will hear from Mr. Westwood soon.

Cordially yours,

THE COLORADO ASSOCIATION
