Dear Miss Gilpin:

Replying to your letter of the 14th, we note that you are willing to take another photograph of Mrs. Chapman's room. When you do, re-arrange the three piece chaise so that it will make a nice composition. I do not know whether to suggest a chair on either side of the dresser base or to arrange the three pieces together. I believe that there are three pieces and it is rather unusual and therefore interesting.

The photography for the morning room was beautiful but the present mode is to use everything in pairs and there were a pair of the swan arm chairs which seemed to me could have been moved further from the fireplace and perhaps the table not quite so prominent or the table on the left hand side and something else nearer the window.

The photographs of Allen's room were not interesting in composition from our viewpoint but I am sure Mrs. Chapman will be interested in them.

Yours sincerely,

A P Tamita
