Dear Miss Gilpin -

We reached home after our week-end jaunt, just in time to celebrate Barbara's birthday with her. She was duly spanked and smacked, and presented with her presents. She loved your photo of "The Sacred Well" - and today I have gotten some screw eyes and picture cord, and we will soon have it hanging in her room. It is the loveliest thing, and makes us want all the more to see your other photos. Please don't have them tucked so far away, even if we don't get to Colorado for another year, that we can't enjoy them. I'm flowers the peonies and roses are just beautiful. I pick great bunches for the house and for school and for friends and you would never know I had picked a one. I wish you could see our place right now.

Barbara is off horsebacking or she would send a real message to you. She's just fine - and as much addicted to trousers as ever. She should have been a boy.

Most sincerely yours

Lady's Willis

But if he's half as busy as we all seem to be with these last days of school, he's too busy for anything else. We are deep in examinations: each day sees us bringing home books and papers galore: and there's public speaking, a ball game and a track meet which we have to go to, before the week is out. It keeps us hustling with the girls 10 miles in one direction, and boys 10 miles in the other.

We are having a gorgeous summer day! Over the weekend, after a grand rain Saturday night, all the flowers have just burst into
