

January 7, 1933.

Mr. Donald Baer,
Denver Art Museum,
Denver, Colo.

Dear Mr. Baer:-

I have had a request from the Brooklyn Institute for an exhibition which must go off in the next few days. There are several of the Central City prints that I want to send and I will need the prints that you have.

Will you send them down to me as soon as possible? They were not packed to ship by mail or express when they went up to you, but went by the bus. Will you return them by the Pickwick Bus who will notify me when they arrive.

While going over the prints with Miss Evans last week I noticed that the one that was reproduced in the News was not with the rest. I trust that they will return it to you.

Sorry to hurry you, but this will be an important exhibition and I do want the things to reach there on time.

With best wishes for the New Year, I am

Sincerely yours,