Dear Miss Lamorey:-

I am exceedingly sorry to be sending in my prints at the eleventh hour, but I have been in a rush of work ever since your notice came. Six prints are in the mail now, special delivery and should reach you on Thursday. Three copies of the print to appear in U.S. CAMERA, and three copies of another print as you requested. All are mounted as directed and are ready for display.

May I ask when last year's prints will be returned? And have you any available list of where they have been shown?

Wishing you every success with this year's venture, and hoping that you have already established one of the leading annuals in the world, I am

Sincerely yours,
