

THE ROYAL PHOTOGRAPHIC SOCIETY
OF GREAT BRITAIN.

FOUNDED 1853.

SECRETARY:

H. H. BLACKLOCK.

OFFICIAL ORGAN:

THE PHOTOGRAPHIC JOURNAL.

Telephone, Museum 0411.

35, Russell Square,
London, W.C.1.

2 Decy 38

Dear Miss Gilpin

A week or so ago my thoughts went out to you when I realised it was Thanksgiving Day and I recalled my pleasant associations with it a year ago. I trust you enjoyed it with your father and friends and that all were well.

My trip west has remained a very delightful memory and I think of it often. I imagine that I was fortunate that it was not this year that I came over, to judge from the accounts of blizzards and disasters that have occurred

this Fall.

You will notice that I have taken on the Honorary Secretaryship of this Society as the work has increased so much that it was proving too much for our Secretary Mr Blacklock. It keeps me very busy now.

I have given accounts of my experiences in America and of my visit to the Canyons to the Society and will send you copies when the latter is published in a few days.

I trust the turkey ranch is proving a success. I can still envisage my trip up to it and our journey home in the snowstorm.

With kind regards to yourself
and your father

Yours sincerely
J. Dudley Johnston