Dear Miss Gilpin:

Since your letter of July 3, advising that you would prepare an article and print for the book MY FAVORITE CAMERA AND LENS AND WHY I have had no letter from you, and wonder if perhaps the material may not have been lost in the mail.

I hope this was not the case, but in any event wish to say that your article will be welcome as soon now as you can find time for it. The book is nearing completion. Last week brought in Dmitri Kessel, John Paul Pennebaker, Ifor Thomas, Ira Martin, and Margaret Bourke-White. There are thirty three acceptances to date, and I am now ready to start final organization.

I hope this letter finds you with a few moments leisure time to sit down and sketch out your article. I believe your presence in the book will add materially to its interest and reader value. From all present indications, the book should be quite a success from the standpoint of readership and sales.

Sincerely,

Frank Harvey
