Dear Miss Gilpin:

I wonder if we may have your permission to use your portrait study* of Frank Lloyd Wright in connection with book store and book review publicity next Spring. We are planning to publish a revised and enlarged version of Mr. Wright's autobiography, and we all think that your picture of him is the very best one.

I hope you will recall as pleasantly as I do our meeting in the Summer of 1934 when I was staying in Colorado Springs with Alec Campbell. From this great distance, I have continued to admire your work quite as keenly as I did on that day when I first became acquainted with it.

Yours sincerely,

Charles A. Pearce
