Mr. William H. Cowles,
2602 West Second Ave.,
Spokane, Washington.

Dear Mr. Cowles:-

My sincere apologies for not writing to you long ago. As one busy day seems to follow another and as I have no secretary, I get woefully behind on correspondence.

I am expressing to you to-day the last remaining copy of your albums. The copy for Mrs. Shepard went to her a week or more ago.

The remainder of this long delay have been two fold. First with Aunt Fanny's permission I had an exhibition at the Art Center here of your books, her books and a lot of similar things of my own. Sixteen pages, some of yours and some of the new sets I am doing for her and which are not yet bound, were shown in frames. Then the books, open to certain pages were in a case together with some copies of my own and the originals from which they were made. It made a very nice exhibit.

Then on Aunt Fanny's order, I have made some additions to your books. Your two Hutchinson Uncles and another copy of Elizabeth Cowles with her son. These three have been added to your copy and to Aunt Fanny's copy, and four additional pages of the two Uncles are included inside the box in the package going to you to-day. These you can distribute where ever you wish. The pages are numbered and they have been added to your index.

This, I believe, winds everything up for us, and again I should like to tell you how much I enjoyed doing these books for you and working on them with you.

Hoping that this finds you well, and with best wishes, I am

Most sincerely yours,
