Mr. Tom Maloney,
U.S. Camera,
122 East 42nd St.,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Maloney:-

Your wire came this morning and somewhat surprised me as I have already sent in eight prints and have received acknowledgement of their arrival. Maybe I have already been rejected and you did not find my name on the final list! It is quite possible. I have had a busy year on routine work with not a sufficient amount of new prints. However, I hope that this is a mix up somewhere and that I am still in the running.

I have been hoping to hear further from you regarding the use of the prints I sent in which were originally scheduled for Magazine No. 15. What has become of them?

One job I have been working on is the assembling in book form of the Southwest Lantern Slides which has been published this coming fall by Hastings House with my own text. This series covers about 20 years work, and covers the archaeology and contemporary Pueblo Indian culture. No Navahos. Mr. Freese has written me that he has seen we listed in your query about Lens League Books and wished me to suggest him as publisher if this should ever come to pass.

The new monthly magazine has just come and I have had time to glance at it only. Are you still continuing the Quarterly as indicated in Issue 15? I hope so, for a good quarterly with fine reproductions is certainly needed.

Thank you kindly for your wire and I hope that my entry was not too far off in modern appeal! I need to come to N.Y. for a trip and to see what everybody is doing.

Sincerely yours,
