Dear Miss Gilpin:

The U.S. Camera, 1937 has on page 168 a photograph which bears your name. I should like to use this photograph as one of several pages of illustrations in an anthology of literature which I am editing for Harcourt, Brace and Company, publishers, 383 Madison Avenue, New York City. This anthology is for high school students and is called The Challenge To Live.

Would you be willing to allow us the use of this photograph, and if so, would you let me know your terms and what credit line you wish to place beneath the photograph?

I am very anxious to get a glossy print of the negative at the earliest possible moment, since the book is going to press soon, and if you decide to give us permission to use your photograph, I wonder if you would help to expedite this matter by sending me a glossy print just as soon as it is humanly possible for you to do so?

Very truly yours,

Walter Loban
