

March 16, 1942.

Dear Dr. Fisher:-

How extremely nice of you to write such a flattering review of my little book. I am very pleased that you like it. It was lots of fun to put it all together and on the whole I think Hastings House did an excellent job. However the re-productions of the Acoma series seem particularly disappointing and they should have been the best. But in war times one cannot complain and I am only thankful that it is out. They have the material on hand now for another and I am hoping that they will accept it.

It was only last week that I was talking about you to Brownie. Jobs are very scarce here and I am trying to get a job under the Division of Information of the F.S.A. under Mr. Stryker. So far nothing definite. Brownie suggested that I write to you to see if the Museum was losing photographers to the Army, and if you might have a job which I could qualify for. I am ready to go anywhere where I could be of use either in defense work or to relieve a young man for war work.

May I trouble you to order three copies of "Natural History" which contains your review and have the office send me the bill?

Hope all goes well with you,

Most sincerely