Dear Miss Gilpin:

Re: Estate of Francis Gilpin, Deceased

Your father's will was admitted to probate today and letters of administration with the will annexed issued to me in accordance with your petition. I am enclosing herewith a copy of the order as entered.

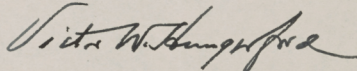

Notice to creditors will be published in the "Colorado Springs News" for five weeks beginning the 29th instant, and at the expiration of six months from today all creditors failing to file claims are forever barred.

Ted Robinson started the bidding for the automobile at $75.00 and is now up to $90.00, Cady Daniels raising the original bid by $10.00. Ted also told me that the electric motor which you have listed for sale with the Delta 14" bandsaw belongs to him - that he loaned it to your father after his own motor had burned out. I have no means of knowing whether or not this is the fact, but assume he would hardly make the statement unless it were true. He offers $10.00 for the electric drill, but that, I note, you want to keep. I will take up at once the sale of the articles which you have listed for sale and report on progress.

I had expected to see you again before you left town to get a report on the sale of the wearing apparel, and also to ascertain where keys to the Donald Gilpin stall could be available if access there is necessary in your absence. Will you kindly advise me as to these matters.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
