Sat. Dec 11 -

Sauva dear

Your letter from Wichita tells just here - Your letters are the joy of my days, & I know you understand my not writing of later ~~as~~ more fully all that is in my heart. Writing seems to grow more & more difficult & I more reluctant to force it. I meant to tell you in my last letter not to worry about my finances I've enough for some time & will surely find work some where some how. Mrs. Jackson has sold my dressing table & I think I told you of the little job at Christmas for her.

You will be surprised to hear that Helen is back again & further that relatives were not ~~not~~ cordial - she thinks partly because she has neglected writing + partly because they disapprove of her taking over Duncan's matter of inheritance & other.

The Swisses are going to Denver this P.M. ^{starting} tomorrow eve, we'll be keeping house alone

The weather has been cold + windy, very disagreeable - I envy you the southern climate -

Thine in haste as I must go to Jamie's & get a letter from E. which came yesterday -

This is as crammed as always with my love

Beth.
