

HANDY & HARMAN

PRECIOUS METALS

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

82 FULTON STREET
CORNER GOLD STREET
NEW YORK

7

June 25, 1945

PLANTS
BRIDGEPORT, CONN.
NEW YORK, N.Y.
FULTON & GOLD STS.
PROVIDENCE, R.I.
425 RICHMOND ST.
CHICAGO SALES OFFICE
20 NORTH WACKER DRIVE
LOS ANGELES SALES OFFICE
1206 SOUTH MAPLE AVE.

Miss Laura Gilpen
Alta Vista Hotel
Colorado Springs, Colorado

Dear Laura:

I hesitated calling you on Tuesday since I thought your appointments in getting off might be complicated. The article to be done in Wyoming sounds splendid and definitely cooler than New York.

I still enjoy thinking of the stars and planetarium, and I can't say how good it was seeing you in New York.

We would like a dozen prints of the compositions of jewelry and the silver bowl and eight or nine of the one of five pieces of jewelry. Then if we could have two of the prints showing all the work done by one patient. I am a little bit uncertain as to what the need is going to be but assume that I can get in touch with you within a considerable time if I should need more. Everyone agrees that the composition first mentioned is one of the most beautiful photographs of silver that has ever been made. Mr. Niemeyer was very much pleased.

Of the portraits #6 and #2 interested me most I think, and I suppose they should be in a gloss for reproduction.

The Air Force has made no decision so my vacation is still in the air. The mountains are calling. It would be wonderful if our paths would cross. Please put me on your mailing list of change of address.

With all my warm personal greetings and best wishes for your successes in one of the richest eras of your life,

Sincerely,

Margaret
Margaret Craver
(Miss)

MC:LE

I forgot to say the prints should show the jewelry almost life size and I believe we will add them to our exhibition mounted on 12 x 14.