Dear Mr. Tucker:-

Just as I was leaving town yesterday, Mr. Buchanan told me that you had suggested re-listing all my belongings in storage. This is not necessary and would be far too costly. I supervised the re-packing of the goods in open storage which included my negative files. When these were first put with you, I specifically requested that they should not be moved unless I were there. However, during my absence in Wichita, they were moved, twice I believe. I have found some of the glass negatives broken, and I am hoping that I do not find any more. So far it has been nothing of importance and I sincerely hope that nothing further will be found. But unless these cases are put down extremely carefully that chance always exists, and unless ~~in~~ I am there to watch, this is not done. Just as soon as I unpack the trailer I will send up all the tags on the cartons, and there is not the slightest need to unpack the locker or go over all the open storage again. The next time it will all come out for good, I sincerely hope.

Very truly yours,
