Dear Laura:

Thank you for your Christmas card which followed me around the country and finally reached me here. After the convention of the PSA in Rochester I went to New York and then spent two months there in the hospital following a comparatively mild heart attack and just reached here last week. I am very much better but the doctors tell me I will have to take things easily for a few months and then should be one hundred percent again.

It is interesting to note that you will probably make Santa Fe your headquarters in future. We usually come through on the Santa Fe railroad and have often thought of going into Santa Fe but never have done so. I am afraid now that our trip there will have to be put off another year until I get back to be myself again. If we ever do come I will let you know about the trip.

Occasionally I hear about you from Blanche Lentz. I am wondering how your book is coming along. Some time at your convenience just drop me a brief note and let me know when you expect it to be published.

Sincerely,

Edward C. Crossett
