Dear Mr. Hugo:-

Sorry to be so long in answering the request for prints of 16 of the post cards. This is a sad loss, as all my negatives are still in storage in Colorado Springs. As I have been in the midst of the final work on this book on which I have been at work for two years, my correspondence has been delayed. The book is finished and now in the publishers hands, and my attention will be devoted to post cards. I leave to-morrow for a trip to Colorado, and shall endeavor to find the original set of prints which are also in storage. If I am unable to find them, I will get the negatives and make you some new prints immediately upon my return in a few days. This is an unfortunate delay and I regret my part of it, but there has been nothing I could do.

Dear Mr. Hugo:-

I am sorry to be so long in answering your letter about the 16 missing prints. I have been in the final wind up of this book I have been doing and time was pressing. There was nothing I could do about it as my negatives are still in storage in Colorado Springs and there is no way I could get them. However, I am going up there to-morrow and will endeavor to get out those negatives or find the original prints which are also there in storage. I regret all this delay, but I could do nothing for the moment. You will receive them just as quickly as possible. about shipping on public lines to Yucatan. The Havana line - about information was also given me here and I have since found that it is the WARD line which goes from New York to Progreso, Yucatan, the port of entry to the state. If their office cannot give you information, one other way is by rail to New Orleans and by boat across the gulf. I will find out the name of that line and let you know if the other does not materialize.

Now that the book is finished, I shall get buy on material for more cards.
