Dear Dr. Moo:-

After more than fifteen years, I believe it is, you are hearing from me once more. Would you kindly send me an application blank for the 1948 Guggenheim awards? I realize that it is near the dead line, but I hope that I can get the application in in time. I will have the material all ready to send as soon as I receive it. I had been under the impression that November 1st was the time, rather than October 15th.

I have just completed a pictorial photographic book with accompanying text which is being published by Duell, Sloan & Pearce, and will be out sometime next year. It has been a long and exceedingly interesting piece of work (The Rio Grande from Source to Mouth) and has taken much longer and cost far more to do than either the publishers or I anticipated. Therefore a little help towards the next project would be more than welcome.

The statement and all information will be ready to send to you when I receive the application blank and I trust will reach you before October 15th.

Very sincerely yours,
