

April 20th.

Dear Nancy:-

The prints, forty four in all, are off to you by special delivery parcel post. I hope they reach you Saturday without fail. They should. I am sending this many so that you may have some leeway in your selection. They are packed and listed in sequence, not that it matters for your purpose. I have all but one of the ones you requested. The cowboys changing horses. That is a hard one. I erred on the side of underdevelopment and I should intensify the negative and am scared to! Particularly with the wash water we have here. Before I try it, I must make a duplicate of it as it is and I just haven't had the time. The enlargement of the Indian Group firing pottery, I find to my dismay is not sharp. My rickety old enlarger slips, for I know my negative is sharp. I just haven't had time to do it over. I hope you will find the enlargements, the 16x20s, will carry well. How I wish I might be present to see the final selection of the work you are sending over. When I think of the contrast of Barbara, Bernice Abbott and myself, and then add seven more whom I don't know, you certainly should have variety!

The best of luck to this show. I am proud indeed to be included. My kindest regards to all of you,

Cordially
