Dear Abbie:

Please excuse my being so long in answering your letter. It came while I was in the midst of hanging my exhibit here, but the book did not come till a few days ago. I am returning it duly inscribed to you in this mail. I am pleased that you are sending it to Charles and Alice.

Everything seems to be buzzing along and the book is going very well. You will probably see the Abbots in the next day or two. It was fun having them here and I hope they enjoyed their trip.

How are you coming along with all your mining material. I should be interested to see it sometime.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
