Hervey, Dow and Hinkle,
Roswell, N.M.

Dear Mr. Bondurant:-

Your letter was forwarded on to me where I was visiting, and as I was on the point of coming home, I have not answered it until now. The trip home through the heat pretty well did me up, and I have done little since my return other than some necessary work.

I have written to Colorado Springs, regarding the possible instrument signed by my brother, and as soon as I hear from them, I shall communicate with you. I do not know who is carrying on the work of Major Hungerford's law office since his death, but I am sure that some one is.

My brother left no children, only his wife. She, of-course, has known about this mineral deed since it first came to my attention, and however this matter is settled, I have every intention of seeing that she receives benefit from any possible proceeds. There are several points, however, regarding which I do want information. Is there any possibility of your being in Santa Fe at any time in the near future? If not, I shall come down for a talk with you sometime in the next week or so. Much work has piled up for me, and as soon as it is well under way, and I see my way clear for a day off, I shall come down, unless you are coming here soon.

Hoping that I may see you before long and that all points can be settled up before long, I am

Sincerely yours,
