Horvey, Dow & Hinkle,
Roswell, N.M.

Dear Mr. Bondurant:-

It was some little time before Mr. Montgomery could get to the papers I brought up. The week before Flosta he was very busy, and then I had relatives here for more than a week and after that I came down with a dose of flu. Hence my long delay. I talked to Mr. Montgomery yesterday and his opinion is the same as yours. It is all quite all right, for I have intended to share with my sister-in-law from the first. I only hope that the two sets of papers etc. will not too greatly increase the cost. I have written to her to write to you, to find out just what you require and you should hear from her in a few days. As far as I am concerned, you may proceed with the filing of my father's will and whatever is necessary to establish my share. Edna's will probably be more complicated, and I leave that to you and to her.

Mr. Montgomery said that he could mail the file back to you and you should have it by now. I am sorry that my delay has been so long, but it couldn't be helped. I hope the way is now clear to proceed with all this matter.

Sincerely yours,
