Dear Miss Bulkley:

Thank you very much for your letter. Ann Webster's death was a terrible shock to many of us. I had been at the house on Monday taking a set of photographs and had such a lovely visit with her. While this is a terrible shock, it is also a very wonderful way to go, and I am sure it is as she would have wished it. She gave me the copy of the book to mail to you and I sent it off that morning.

I will be very happy to make you a set of prints of the house. There are six and the price of duplicate prints would be $2.00 each. I know you must be very glad that you had such a nice visit here this summer.

With kindest regards to you and Marie Page when you see her, I am

Very sincerely yours,
