Dear Sirs:-

During the six and half years that my belongings were in storage with you, they were moved about in the warehouse and certain damage occurred. The worst one was to a small table stand with three drawers which had to top badly broken. Mr. Buhmann saw this and I told him I would write to you about it. One of the old brass handles is missing. I have been hoping that I would find it in with something else but as yet it has not shown up. On my Empire sofa, one leg was broken. This damage I saw happen and reported to you personally at the time the sofa was taken out of my studio at 3 C.H. Tejon St. You told me at that time that you would take care of it when I got my things out.

Not everything is yet unpacked as I have much work to do as well as getting settled and have had to build adequate book cases etc. I am at the moment missing a box with my lamps in it, but I imagine that it will show up just as soon as I get everything unpacked. Rather than wait any longer with these items, I will let you know if I do not find them. I enclose the tags on the three above mentioned items.

Thanking you for your attention to these, I am

Very truly yours,
