My dear Miss Gilpin:

I have been waiting for you to write me if your insurance would cover the conditions described to you in my letter and my friend Mrs. Morgan tells me that you have been waiting, too. On January 14 you wrote, "I cannot get in touch with the Insurance agent until to-morrow morning, but will do so at once." It seemed to me that any exhibit at all was contingent upon the matter of the insurance.

Perhaps it would be better if you made up a set of prints for a special exhibit in our cases. It seems to me that since your books tell the whole story of the Rio Grande so admirably much might be gained by making selections for sheer beauty, social interest, stark realism, striking contrasts and many other kinds of emphasis.

Very truly yours
