Dear Laura:

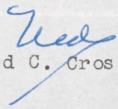

As my secretary wrote you, I made a rapid recovery from my troubles and am now back on the job again.

It is fine that you are about ready to make prints for the PSA and we will be delighted to have them. When you are ready, will you please send them to the National Headquarters in Philadelphia. I am writing Mr. Wardlaw Hammond today that they will be coming along in the comparatively near future.

In all probability you will stay around Santa Fe for the winter but, if it gets too cold for you there and you should happen to be in Southern California, please let me know as we should be delighted to have you come to the house. I imagine that Pasadena the last few days has been almost as cold as Santa Fe because it has been 30 in the morning and only reaches 50 or so during the day.

With best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Edward C. Crossett
