Dear Carol:-

How goes everything with you? My Christmas got all upset with a big wedding and work to finish just at Christmas time. I did make a Greeting Card but never had time to send them out! And as the subject was distinctly Christmas and not New Years, --- well it is all done for next year!

As you may know by now, Miss Price ordered a copy of the Covered Wagon Navaho picture for you for Christmas. In a P.S. she said that if you had gotten it to choose something else for you. Which I did and I hope I sent one you like.

I wonder if the bill for the second shipment of Rio Grandes went astray. The books were long in coming, a delay which I regretted but there was nothing I could do about it. I sent a gratis desk copy, and the six copies followed as soon as they came. I do hope that the delay did not cause you too great inconvenience. I have never heard a word about this second order.

Plugging along out here and getting worried about completing the Navaho book. What is ahead for all of us?

This brings my very best wishes to you all,

Affectionately
