

Feb. 27,

Dear Cornelia:-

I have tried two or three times to reach you by phone, but never could get the line. At long last I am off to Colorado Springs in the morning. I have been needing a change of glasses for some time and have been wanting to get up ever since Christmas, as I have never been to an oculist here.

As Eleanor will not be in the shop by the time we are off, I am leaving the portfolios with Dorothy McKibbin. I have replaced the prints you thought too dark in the portfolio of the house. And I enclose in the package also, the 12 prints which came back from New York. The corners are all broken and they could never be of any use to me that way. Maybe you can find a similar use for them.

The enclosed bill is the very best that I can do and is still at the price I made you when the work was undertaken. Paper and film costs have gone way up since then. And as you know, because I love your house and enjoyed the work I made the portfolios of the house and furniture at cost price.

I will be back by the middle of next week and hope to see you.

My best wishes,
