Dear Miss Gilpin:

Thank you so much for your letter of June 13th. After reading it, I talked to our client again and learned that at this stage of the game they are interested in seeing any and everything on Yucatan. They expressed an interest in seeing your book so I am sending one over today. As for any additional photographs, I would prefer to leave the selection up to you since you know what you have and what would be of pictorial interest for a vacation article on Yucatan.

I am sorry to say that I know nothing about Mr. Karl Johnson, other than the fact that I read several months ago in one of the photographic magazines that he was organizing a southwestern agency.

Any transparencies you care to submit I would be happy to see -- and it won't be necessary for you to fill out a card. The following list of subjects might be a help to you in selecting material to submit: fishing, farm scenes, cattle, seasonal scenics, general scenics, places and buildings of historical interest, and foreign travel.

Again my thanks for your interest and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Sarah Jordan
