Dear Miss Gilpin :

One of our customers has just told us of seeing your RIO GRANDE for sale at a $2 price, which leads us to believe it must have gone to a remainder house. Since publishers are never very free with information as to whether a book has been remaindered and if so, to what house, we are hoping you can tell us something about it .

We do hope this is not the case , since it will mean the book is out of print, and it is such a fine work on this country that it will be greatly missed if it becomes unavailable.

We enclose a postcard for your convenience, in case you can tell us which remainder house, if any, has it for sale, since we have not received any notice. We'll appreciate it very much if you can.

You have not been in Taos for a long time now, or at least we have not seen you . We both hope you may be dropping in soon. Also, what of the Navajo book ? We are looking forward to it .

Yours most cordially,

Claire Morrill
