

Dear Miss Gilpin:

I read your letter to Mr. Henbest and we are so sorry to hear that you won't be here in April. We regret to hear about your setbacks but realize that work on your book has first claim on your time and your trip will have to wait until you have it completed.

We discussed the possibility of changing dates of your show here but felt it is too late to do so because of the many complications. So we'll go ahead with your print show in April as scheduled. There will look forward to seeing you and your slides in the fall.

We would like to ask your friends here to the opening tea, so if you can, would you send us an address list and we will extend them an invitation.

When you send the prints you can send them to the club address which is:

Arts Club of Washington
2017 "Eye" St. N.W.

Washington 6, D.C.

I am looking forward to your show, and of course I wish you could be here, but I do understand.

Sincerely,

Dorline Bekkedol
