

July 13, 55.

Dear Miss Lee:-

Your kind letter came several days ago, and the usual very busy days plus unexpected out of town visitors have combined to keep me away from my desk. Yes indeed, I remember you in San Antonio. Mercy, how the years slip by in a hurry.

The day after your letter came, Sallie Lippincott was here and I was telling her that I had several showings of the slides booked in the Washington area. She said at once "How about the National Cathedral School?" So I showed her your letter. She said she would write to you about what I have to offer. She thinks it should be for the whole school, not the lower school. The point is, that if I cut to fill just thirty minutes, it leaves so much out of importance, that this would become something else. I have just recently given the whole program in the big auditorium at Los Alamos. There were a lot of children in the audience, and I was amazed that they all sat quietly and with interest during the whole hour and a half. In any event I shall be glad to give you whatever you wish. I have three showings now booked in Washington, Oct. 4th, 6th and 13th. So that any time between the 4th and the 13th would be satisfactory to me.

And thank you very much for your kind invitation, I shall be most happy to accept. I shall be staying for a few days anyway with Carol Preston and later at Boyce Va. with my cousins.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,
