

March 5,
1956.

The Dexter Press,
West Nyack, N.Y.

Dear Sirs:-

The Museum of Navajo Ceremonial Art is wanting at least three more postcards. They wish to have the captions printed below the color reproduction as per the enclosed sample. Neither they nor I seem to have a record of the cost on this particular card, in this regard. Will you please send me the quotation of three of these to be made from 2 1/2 x 3 1/2 transparencies? Also I should like to have my credit line somewhere.

Very truly yours

Tleji Hatral (Night Chant) Ceremonial Sandpainting reproduced in tapestry by Hasteen Klah, famous Navajo Medicine Man, shows 48 male and female Yeh (Deities) in four registers, led by white-masked Háshje-áltye (Talking God) and followed by blue-masked Tóhnenilli (Water Bearer).

Museum of Navajo Ceremonial Art

Santa Fe, New Mexico