Gentlemen:-

I am anxious to settle up my account with you and also straighten out what seems to be a duplication. During October November and part of December I was away from home, and since then I have moved, so I have been behind hand with many matters.

Somehow I have received two copies of Thomas Costain's 2 vol. THE TONTINE. I am returning one with this mail. Also I find a bill with a new account number in my name for this as an introductory book. I enclose my check for $8.80 on the enclosed invoice, and also an invoice with my old number which was 113-1539-N.M. Will you be so kind as to inform me if you have changed numbers or if this is an error? Also if my account is now paid up. I did not receive a Dec. book and I definitely want the Pearl Buck book which is about due.

Very truly yours,
