Dear Dr. Moon:-

My sincere apology to you for such a delay. I had to order special paper for the big Corn Dance prints. Then a delay because I had to send off the negative for a special exhibition for the Information Service. This is something I have never done before, but as Ansel Adams was to make the prints, I sent off four of my best.

Everything is now made, and aside from some spotting on the prints, they are ready. I will send them by next Tuesday.

I am going out shortly to the reservation for a few final pictures that I need for the book. They will take me all over the place. Just where I shall be come September, I cannot say at this moment. But when I do know I will drop you a line.

In the mean time my very best wishes, and again my apology for this long delay.

Very sincerely
