Dear Mrs. Gilpin,

In Pal Kelemen's MEDIEVAL AMERICAN ART, one-volume edition, NY 1956, plate 42a, there is reproduced a fine photo, taken by you, of the Temple of the Warriors at Chichen Itza. I should very much like to reproduce the same photo in a book I am doing, entitled "Key Monuments of the History of Art" and designed as a pictorial companion for undergraduate survey courses in the history of art. Would you be kind enough to permit me to do so? My publisher is prepared to pay a modest reproduction fee, and of course I should be glad to give you full credit as the source of the photo.

Mr. Kelemen has offered to loan me his print of the photo, once I have your permission to reproduce it. Nevertheless, I should also like to have a print of my own, just in case something happens to Mr. Kelemen's. I should be grateful, therefore, if you could send me a print (preferably not smaller than 5x7" on white glossy paper), unless this should put you to some inconvenience in locating the negative.

With best personal regards

Very sincerely yours.
