Dear Miss Gilpin:

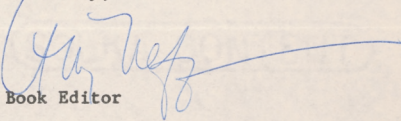

It was a real joy to work with you and I'm eagerly looking forward to the picture product. I felt each day that we pushed you around, that we were cheating you from getting busy on the book that's in your heart.

I've asked Calla to send data on each of the pictures and I will send her payment separately.

If you'll send me Marjorie McFarland's address, I shall send payment directly to her for each of her items. If she'll send brief data on them, including structure directions and materials used, it will help a great deal.

I called Pansy; she was not uncordial and invited me back. I told her I knew there were lots of pictures there if we just had time to put them together.

Cordially,
