Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Davis:-

Having been away from home since June 7th, and moving about, mail has caught up with me in fits and starts. Your letter reached me in the Yosemite and a week later is the first opportunity to find a typewriter, necessary for carbon copies.

It seems to me that I have caused you a great deal of inconvenience for which I am certainly sorry. The whole trouble was not seeing the job before I undertook it.

I enclose an amended invoice to read as per your instructions and hope that everything is now in order.

Very truly yours,
